Online Course

Our online course for neurodiverse workers and jobseekers is already available. The modules cover topics such as how to prepare for job interviews, how to talk about specific learning disorders, how specific adaptations in the workplace may look like and how to prepare for the job itself. To subscribe, click here.

More resources in preparation

In September 2024, we met in Viljandi (Estonia) to discuss the further development of the project. In the following months, we are planning to launch:

- a toolbox with resources for neurodiverse employees ,
- and two quizzes to assess your knowledge and to inspire you to search for a job in accordance with your strengths.

Stay tuned!
